SCHOOLS HAVE CELEBRATIONS

The School Districts Have Swell Times the Past Few Days

The people of Betchton School District held a most enjoyable picnic, last Saturday June 25th. The weather which had been anxiously watched by the little folks and some of the older folks as well, was all that could be desired. The people of the district and surrounding districts turned out en masse. A most inviting dinner was served, two long tables being set under the trees and each an all did full justice to the tempting viands set forth. Afterwards a fine programme of sports was carried out, in which the young generation distinguished itself in a very creditable manner. Among the events for the grown up athletes, special mention might be made of the bucking contest, in which Mr Chas Adams "stayed on" victorious much to the admiration of a large crowd of spectators but also to the great chagrin of "Bob" the pony. One of the chief attractions was the refreshment which did a rushing business all afternoon, their motto was S. P. Q. R. Financially the picnic was a great success, a net profit of $17.25 being realized. Part of this is to be devoted to the purchase of a large flag for the school.

To those energetic ladies and gentlemen of the neighborhood who so ably and willingly assisted in making the picnic the success it was, and especially to Mr and Mrs Corsatto our hearty thanks are due.

Near the junction of Eagle Creek with the Little Red Deer river the pupils of Gordon and Buffalo Creek schools accompanied by their teachers, parents and friends assembled at eleven o'clock on Saturday June 25th for the purpose of holding a school picnic. From 1 to 2.30 dinner was served on the grounds after which [all thought it advisable to partake of a few dishes of ice cream, making it necessary to postpone the races until later in the day. The remainder of the day was spent in fishing, swimming and raft riding. Oranges, candy and lemonade satisfied the company until 5 o'clock when tea was served, after which the company partook themselves to the top of the hill where the following sports were conducted.

Boys foot race 1st Alva Baycroft 2nd Harold Knipe, Dewey Sanborn. Girls foot race, 1st Minnie Wildman, 2nd Dora and Marie Fredericksen, 3rd Tressie Tester.

Eastern Echoes

While east we met L. M. Fisher, who used to be with the Daily Free Press, at Winnipeg, while we were with the Stovel Co. Mr. Fisher is now the editor of the Northampton (Mass.) Daily Herald and is getting out a live-up-to-the-hour paper. After telling him we needed a lot more young newspaper men who were alive and doing he printed the following:

"Wants bright men for Western Canada. Newspaper owner from Calgary district gives good account of crop prospects. Fred L. Harris, a Western Canada newspaper owner, is in the city today having been called east by the sudden death of his father in Vermont."

He is visiting his cousin, Wilbur Parker, inspector of the Northampton Street Railway. Mr. Harris was also a cousin of Sheriff Haskins, who was shot by Phelps at Charlemont on Sunday.

Mr. Harris has a chain of newspapers in the Territory between Calgary and Red Deer and his chief trouble in operating them at present is in getting the right kind of hustling young newspaper men to help him. He of course believes that. He says there is no better country than this western wheat land. Indeed it appears from what Mr. Harris says the sun shines more there than anywhere else for it rises at 3 in the morning and does not set until 10 at night.

"This year's Western Canada wheat yield will be the largest on record. The acreage under wheat is something like 20 per cent ahead of last year."

One of the pleasant drives we enjoyed on our trip east was the drive from Shelburne Falls to Buckland. On either side for nine miles we passed large substantial homes—some having stood there for a hundred years. The farm houses are built within a stone-throw of each other, the land owned is mostly cut up in small strips, and run back onto the mountains on each side of the river. The orchards and gardens were especially delightful at this time of the year. There were any amount of historical places and birth-places of now world-famous men.

The Gazette and Courier, Greenfield, Mass. in the items from "Buckland" on June 18th, has the following to say in regard to our visit there: "Fred L. Harris of Bowden, Alta. Canada, has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. Ed. Kenney of Buckland, for a few days. He is delighted with our mountainous district, but says he feels rather 'shut-in,' as he comes from a prairie district where to see off a distance of 60 to 80 miles is common. He is engaged in the newspaper in the West. From Buckland he, accompanied by his aunt, went to Northampton to visit his cousins and other relatives. He is related to Sheriff Emmet Haskins, who was shot on Sunday at Charlemont by Silas Phelps; also a relative of Senator Kittredge Haskins, United States Senator from Vermont."

The Deerfield Valley Times in its Somerset news items says: "F. L. Harris, son of L. C. Harris who died recently, arrived by stage on Tuesday of last week. He was too late, however, for the funeral which occurred on the previous Friday. Mr. Harris had not seen his father in nineteen years. He is at present interested in several newspaper enterprises in Alberta, Canadian northwest."

In Memoriam

We take the following article from the Deerfield Valley Times, Wilmington, Vt. June 17, 1910, in regard to death of our father:

LOUIS CHARLES HARRIS

One of the saddest deaths that has ever occurred in Somerset was that of L. C. Harris, who died from heart failure on Tuesday afternoon, May 31.

During the forenoon he had complained of a dizzy feeling and a pain around the heart. Shortly before dinner he called at Wm Paddock's and complained about not feeling well and guessed he would go home and lie down. On reaching home he laid for a while on the bed; then arising quickly he said he would go and cut some stove wood. His little 8-year-old grand stepdaughter, Eunice Walton, cried to go with him, and he said "come on, but it is damp out, yet." For half an hour or so he cut wood before he was taken with pains in his chest. The little girl says: "Grandpa seemed to stop cutting wood and started to fall, striking on his back. He said 'goodbye, little girl, and tell grandma goodbye'; he did not talk to me any more, and I tried to shake him, for I thought he was fooling me, but he did not answer me for so long I got awful afraid, and I ran to grandma."

When she came to her grandma she did not say anything, so her grandma asked: "Did grandpa send you home?" She did not answer, finally, when told she would be punished, she said "Grandpa has fallen down in the woods, and is making believe dead."

Mrs. Harris realized at once that something was wrong, and had little Eunice take her to the spot where her grandpa had fallen. On arriving she found that Mr. Harris had fallen backward with his head resting on a pile of brush. She knew by the set expression on his face that death was near, if not already present. Little Eunice was dispatched to Wm. Paddock's and to the Somerset postoffice, where help was secured. Mrs. Paddock was the first to arrive, and the two women did their utmost to revive him, but to no avail. Messrs. Johnson, Paddock, Whitcomb, and others were soon on the spot and carried the body to the house; a doctor was summoned, but it is thought he was dead even before his wife reached him. It is very fortunate that little Eunice went with her grandfather or he might have lain there for hours before being found.

The funeral services were held at the schoolhouse, Friday, June 3, and was largely attended. Burial was in the Somerset cemetery.

Hon. L. C. Harris was born at Windsor, Mass. March 1, 1848, his birth name being Louis Charles Haskins. His parents were Silas Marble Haskins and Amy Elizabeth Haskins.

When the civil war broke out Silas Haskins joined the 14th Vermont Volunteers. Their home was broken up, Louis was adopted by James Harris, now deceased, of Dover, Vt., where he lived for several years, afterwards going west to Wisconsin. In 1873 he was married to Miss Lucinda M. Parsons at Tomah, Wis. Of this union were born three boys, Fred Louis, Edwin William and Fremont Ray, all of whom survive their father.

In 1880 with his family he left Warren, Wis. for Clear Lake, Deuel county, S. D., where he lived until in 1891 he left the west for his old Vermont home. On his arrival here he located at Somerset, where he has lived until his death.

While a resident of Somerset he served his town and district in many public ways; serving one term in the state legislature from Somerset and had the offer to be returned this fall for another two years.

Mr. Harris leaves several sisters, Mrs. Cora Kenney of Buckland, Mrs. Rosalia Stetsen and Mrs. Montie Terrell of West Cummington, and one brother, Duane Haskins of the same town. He was a cousin of former United States Senator, Kittredge Haskins; also of Sheriff Emmet F. Haskins, who was shot Sunday by the desperado, Phelps.

MR. ALCIDE HEBERT

Stratford Centre, Wolfe Co., Que.

"I have been completely cured of a frightful condition of my stomach through the wonderful fruit medicine 'Fruit-a-tives'. I could not eat anything but what I suffered awful pain from indigestion.

My head ached incessantly. I was told to try 'Fruit-a-tives' and sent for six boxes. Now I am entirely well, can eat any ordinary food and never have a headache."

A Medical Need Supplied.—When a medicine is found that not only acts upon the stomach, but is so composed that certain ingredients of it pass unaltered through the stomach to find action in the bowels, then there is available a purgative and a cleanser of great effectiveness. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are of this character and are the best of all pills. During the years that they have been in use they have established themselves as no other pill has done.

In the causes of infant mortality cholera morbus figures frequently, and it may be said that complaints of the bowels are great destroyers of life. If all mothers would avail themselves of so effective a remedy as Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial many a little one could be saved. This Cordial can be given with safety to the smallest child, as there is no injurious substance in it.

Hard Luck, But—

Two young women went to the matinee. They could not get seats together, but were told at the box office that each could have an end seat, centre aisle, in adjoining rows, and most likely somebody who come along and had a chair next to one of them would obligingly change seats. Near the close of the first act one of the young women timidly whispered to a heavy middle-aged man at her side, who had been sitting stiffly and looking straight ahead:

"Are you alone, sir?" The man buried one side of his face in his programme and breathed: "Sh! Wife."

PANGS AND TORTURES OF A WEAK STOMACH

Prompt Relief and Cure Can be Obtained Through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Indigestion is a condition in which the stomach is more or less unable to digest the food. Even a light case of indigestion means much misery, but when the trouble is at its worst the life of the sufferer is one of constant and acute misery. Indigestion is recognized by a burning sensation in the stomach, bloating, an oppressive feeling of weight, belching wind, pains in the region of the heart, often vomiting and nausea, and a dread of food for the misery it causes. Dieting and the use of pre-digested foods may give some relief, but will never cure indigestion. The work of indigestion depends upon the blood and the nerves and the only way to cure indigestion is to tone up the stomach that it will do the work that nature intended it should do. The very best way to cure a weak stomach is through a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These renew the blood, strengthen the nerves and thus give tone to the stomach, and enable it to do its work with ease and comfort. No one suffering from indigestion in even the slightest form should neglect the trouble for an instant; to do so means that it obtains a firmer hold, and daily the misery and suffering is increased, and the cure made more difficult. At the first approach of the trouble take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and it will speedily disappear. These Pills will cure even the most obstinate case of indigestion, but naturally it takes longer to do so. Mr. Philip Lafleur, St. Jerome, Que., says: "After I left college, when I had studied hard for four years, I suffered so much from indigestion that I found it hard to earn my living. I was troubled with terrible pains, a gloating feeling, and a sourness in the stomach. This led to a loss of appetite and I began to show signs of a nervous breakdown. I tried several different treatments without finding any apparent relief, and my nervous system had grown so shattered that I could not work. A priest who was interested in me advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I followed his advice. It was not long before they began to bring me back to health, and in the course of a couple of months my stomach was as sound as ever; my nervous system strong and vigorous, and I have since enjoyed the best of health. I owe all this to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for which I shall always feel grateful."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Success

George Ade, at the national press banquet last month, said of a Chicago reporter:

"He often worked with me, and I found him about as successful in getting a story as the tramp was in getting work."

"A kind lady, as she gave this tramp a large piece of cherry pie, said:

"But you have never made an effort to get work?"

"Oh, yes, ma'am," said the tramp, balancing the pie skillfully, so that none of its contents spilled. "Oh, yes, ma'am. I got work for three members of my family last week, but none of them would take it."

The Land of the Lonesome Census

At the International Sunday School convention at Louisville in answer to the roll-call of states, the reports were verbally given by the various state children. When the Lone Star State was called, a brawny specimen of Southern manhood stepped out into the aisle and with exceeding pride said:

"We represent the great State of Texas. The first white woman born in Texas is still living—she has now a population of over three millions."

Kitchener Anecdotes.

During the South African War Lord Kitchener, who has returned to England after eight years' work abroad, entrusted a certain captain with an important commission. Unfortunately, the captain's horse cast a shoe. Hence a disastrous delay. "Very sorry," was the general's sarcastic comment, "but I cannot rest my plan of campaign on a horse's shoe or an officer's carelessness." Thus it is that "K. of K." impresses upon his officers the futility of excuses and the necessity of being prepared for anything and everything. No man, it is said, has a greater faculty of estimating a man's capabilities at a glance. But he made a mistake on one occasion.

It was during the Boer War, at Vredfort Road Station, that he started fitting out extempore mounted infantry columns. He determined to equip and send them into the field at once. He went to the waiting-room to look for officers, and found a single man in occupation. He was smart and well-dressed, and pleased Lord K.'s critical eye. "You will command a corps of mounted infantry I have just raised," said the general. "Very good, sir. What will my duties be?" "Don't you know your duties?" "My own—yes, sir." "Then don't argue. What is your regiment?" "Blankshires, sir." "What rank?" "Master tailor, sir." Kitchener hurriedly left.

Famous Miniatures Found.

A curious discovery of valuable miniatures has been made at West Haddon, near Rugby. For some years an elderly lady, Miss Fouquier, a descendant of a Huguenot family, had lived with a shepherd and his wife, and when she died a few weeks ago it was found she had bequeathed her belongings to the couple. The goods were not thought to be worth more than $100, but it is reported that when the cupboard of the ancient writing cabinet was opened a rare collection of miniatures was discovered, all of famous artists, as well as fine old prints and antique china pieces of rare value. They will bring in a decent fortune for the shepherd and his wife when they are put up for sale.

Wooded With Music.

Among the Yao Midos, one of the many Burmese-Tartar people, the young men woo their wives absolutely without words, but to the sound of music. On the first day of winter they have a great feast, at which all the marriageable girls gather and listen to the music made by the bachelors, who sit under the "desire tree," each playing his favorite instrument. As the maiden he loves passes him the youth plays louder and more feelingly. If the girl ignores him and passes on he knows that she will have none of him; if she steps up to him and lays a flower upon the instrument he jumps up, grasps her by the hand, taking care not to drop the flower, and they go away together.

Distillery In Bath Room.

Raiding premises in a crowded neighborhood of Belfast, Ireland, the other day, the police found an illicit still in the bath-room in full working order, together with a quantity of spirits, and a second still was found in another room. The front of the premises was fitted up as a grocer's shop. The gas used for the still was drawn direct from the main, and not through a meter. The amateur distillers were fined $500 each.

Printed Books.

The earliest example of a book printed on both sides of the leaf with metal type dates from 1460. The first book printed with a date was a Latin psalter, 1457.

Dog Sacrifices.

Numerous accounts have been given, both in ancient and modern times, of the sacrificing of dogs for religious purposes. They were immolated at certain periods by the Greeks and Romans to almost all their deities, particularly to Mars, Pluto, Minerva and Proserpine; also they were offered to the moon, because the dog by his barking disturbs all charms and spells and frightens away specters and apparitions.

The Doctor's Answers

By Dr. Lewis Baker.

The questions answered below are general in character; the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, Coll. Bldg., College—Ellwood Sts., Dayton, Ohio, enclosing a self-addressed envelope for reply. If unable to obtain any of the drugs mentioned of your regular druggist, go to some prominent large retail drug store which is sure to be well stocked.

Maud:—I am glad to know the prescription cured you so quickly. Yes, I can give a prescription which will increase your weight from one to three pounds a week. It is not so expensive for it improves the health, weight and strength marvelously. Keep up the treatment until your weight is satisfactory. Syrup hypophosphites comp. 3 ozs., essence of pepsin 3 ozs., tincture cadomene comp. 1 oz. (not cardomom) and comp. essence cardiol 1 oz. Mix, and take a teaspoonful before and after meals. Plumpness follows the use of this almost invariably if continued several months.

W. R. K.—Jaundice, yellow skin, blotches, constipation, biliousness, foul breath, coated tongue and pain in liver region can soon be cured by the following prescription: Fluid extract mandrake 3 drams, comp. essence cardiol 1 oz., aromatic fluid cascara 1 oz., and aromatic syrup rhubarb 4 oz. Mix, shake, and take from one-half to one teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime. I have cured the chronic liver affections with this.

Madam:—Your womanly disorders cannot be prescribed for in these columns. Write me in full and I will treat your case successfully if not too far along.

W. K.—A man in your condition should not neglect taking treatment even though you have been disappointed; and the treatment which I advise for those victims of dissipation who are timid, weak, nervous and lacking in the functional powers of the body so that they cannot act naturally and with perfect self-confidence and self-control, so seldom fails, to produce satisfactory results, that I regard it a boon to mankind. It is especially for men with defective ailments of a nervous character, while excellent for weak diseased women. Comp. syrup asaraparilla 3 ozs., comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz., comp. essence cardiol 1 oz., tincture cadomene comp. 1 oz. Mix, shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one at bedtime. This will make you soon feel the tinge of health and vigor coursing through the body.

S. C. C.—For scrofula, ulcer, pimples, boils and impure blood, accompanied by running sores I usually prescribed the following for a constitutional blood remedy: Syrup of hypophosphites comp. 6 ozs., fluid ext. dandelion 1 oz., comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz. Mix, and take a teaspoonful before or after meals and one at bedtime. The dose may be gradually increased to two teaspoonfuls. This makes a fine spring tonic, too, for both children and adults. It is harmless and you can feel perfectly safe in using anything I prescribe.

Chronic.—Judging by your symptoms you suffer with chronic bronchitis. The cough mixture you have been using causes constipation, and you cannot expect a cure while such a condition exists. Remember a laxative cough remedy should always be used, if there is a tendency to constipation, have this mixed: Comp. essence cardiol 1 oz., aromatic fluid cascara 1 oz., syrup white pine comp. 4 ozs. Take from 1/2 to 1 teaspoonful 8 to 10 times daily or as necessary to check cough. I have known this to cure when all else failed.

Patriotic Sunday

The Presbyterian church was crowded last Sunday evening when the Rev W M Chalmers preached a forceful sermon on the subject: "The stranger within our gates."

In the course of his remarks Rev Chalmers explained that this special service was held in response to an appeal made by the General Assembly, to all the churches.

The preacher alluded to the stream of immigrants coming into the Dominion from various countries, and it was the duty of every loyal Canadian to see that the interests and welfare of these people were attended to. We had the American coming in large numbers bringing with him capital, and many good qualities besides, but too often the mercenary spirit predominated. The English were also coming over in large numbers bringing with them many religious traits of character which, unless developed, were most likely to be forgotten in a strange land. Owing to the vigilance of the Board of Moral Reform some glaring evils of the White Slave Traffic had just been revealed. There is an organized system for securing innocent girls to come to Canada under pretence of remunerative employment. Several sad cases were related, and the preacher urged his congregation to do all in their power to stamp out this evil which was threatening our fair Dominion. An offertory was taken in aid of the Board of Moral and Social Reform.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

Services will be held in the Presbyterian church next Sunday as follows: Lone Pine at 12; Bowden at 3; Eagle Creek at 7:30. You are cordially invited to attend.

The Lord Bishop of the Diocese will hold a Confirmation in the St Mathews church on the last Sunday in July—the 31st. All those wishing to be confirmed are requested to send in their names as soon as possible to Mr. Banting, incumbent.

Services every Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

Rev F E Davies will conduct Divine service in the Methodist church this Sunday evening at 7:30. All are welcome.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid will serve ice cream in the room next to Butler's store on Friday, 15th. Your patronage will be esteemed.

The Alberta Sunday School Association will hold a mass meeting in the Presbyterian church, Bowden, on Tuesday, 19th.

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST.

Miss M Moore of Banff is visiting at the home of Mrs E Walton.

Quite a number of people took in the fair at Calgary this week.

Combs, hair brushes, tooth brushes—Perrin's.

C Sorenson has employed W C Ramsey to look after the sales and expert work on McCormick machines. Sorenson says that business is bound to improve; now if your old mower needs repairing or if you need a new one, you will find Ramsey at his old stand.

OLDS.

Mr and Mrs Lawrence Walkley are back from their wedding trip.

Claude Normon is moving back to his farm southeast of Olds after an absence of two years.

S Scott and family moved back to Olds this week.

A A Aulwardt and family have returned to Olds from their trip to Oregon.

Robt Hainstock's new building on 3rd St. is now up, and is going to be an imposing affair, and will be quite an addition to 3rd St. and the business part of The City.

The Calgary fair was very liberally patronized by the people of Olds and vicinity.

Levi Newcom moved his children out to the Starr ranch yesterday.

A lamp exploded in the hotel on Wednesday morning and word fire started many from their slumbers. A wet blanket soon put the fire out. Not, however, before there was one of the best assorted shirt-tail parades ever seen in Olds.

INNISFAIL.

If there is such a thing as having a good time on a public holiday the people who visited Innisfail on Dominion Day certainly had a fine time.

To start with the street parade was a success and the floats were a credit to those who had a hand in getting them up.

The ball game between Bowden and Innisfail was won by Bowden, while the football between Didsbury and Innisfail was won by the latter by two to one. The boys and girls races and horseraces were very entertaining. The music by the bagpipes and band boys was enjoyed, only the boys were not very fast in shelling out plenty of it.

In the evening the Bowden and Innisfail girls crossed bats to Bowden's defeat. This was really the best part of the program or at least it furnished the most amusement. Even Dave Arnell, who was never known to get excited, was shouting for all "get out" before the game was half over.

Another feature—the closing one—was the grand display of fireworks in the evening, at the very beautiful lake north of town. The dance, later, was also good.

Betchton

Several of our young people took in the dance at Summit and report a good time.

The Betchton boys are organizing a baseball team and expects to play Nesbit boys on the 8 of July at their picnic.

We are sorry to report the illness of Mrs Clinton Latimer.

We are glad to see Emma Grad is in Bowden district again.

Jas Hawkins has finished the Govt. work on the conlee near the school.

Philip Hawkins sold two saddle ponies to Mr Shaw.

There has been so much improvement in the roads and fences that it hard for people in other districts to find their way.

Mr and Mrs Arthur Elphic are the proud parents of a bouncing boy since June 25th.

Eagle Creek

The Eagle Creek will hold their picnic on the 24th of July. Supper charges, adults 25 cents and children 10 cents. Every one is invited to come and enjoy the day the program commences at 10 a.m.

Caroline Rippings

D G Calhoun lost his largest horse recently.

H Berry of Raven was assisting Mullen and Calhoun.

J F Browning arrived home from Washington last week.

A Shaw of Raven was seen in this vicinity recently.

C L Hall and W Cone were the guests of H A Langley last Saturday evening.

Mrs E B Foot was visiting with Mrs C H Lyman the past week.

Miss Tessie Browning was at the Raven a few days last week.

Mr Rockhill has his shanty done and is living on his own place.

Mr Herford was in Innisfail this week.

Mr Litt spent a very pleasant evening at G A Vanarsdale last Friday.

Mrs and Miss Dial were visiting Mrs Hall one day last week.

Ray and Miss Lulu Dial were helping H A Langley this week.

MILNERTON.

The Glorious Fourth was celebrated here in its usual style a picnic being held at J H McArthur's. A very enjoyable time was spent. The program consisted of foot ball, bas. ball, horseracing and other games. The most remarkable feature was the ball game, when our ball tossers lost out to Wimborne 7 to 26. The winners then played Grahamston boys and defeated them 12 to 1.

A large number of our people journeyed to Innisfail on Friday to take in the big event which was pulled off there.

The local ball fans went to Wimborne on the first and were defeated by a score of 9 to 8.

Miss Bella McArthur who has been attending school at Innisfail is home for the holidays.

It is reported that Billy Moran has contracted to put up five hundred tons of hay for P Burns & Co. The young men of district are hustlers.

Ernest Barnes of Lakeview was visiting at T. N. Sarchets last week.

Why not some of our young ladies organize a baseball team. Those that witnessed the game between Bowden and Innisfail ladies in the latter town on the first appreciated it very much and it would be a great hit for our ladies to organize and challenge one of the town's for a game at our fair.

MARRIAGE

Crate—Wilkinson—at the residence of Mrs William Arnell, on Wednesday, June 29, 1910, by Mr. Chalmers, a very pretty wedding took place. The bride was dressed in white silk trimmed with over-lace trimmings and the bridesmaid was Mrs W. Arnell dressed in cream satin. After the wedding a very enjoyable supper served.

Edwell News

Some very beneficial rain has fallen the last few days and the crops are coming along in fine shape. Hay is a little on the shortside as yet but we live in hopes.

The Edwell Union of the U. F. A. recently held a very successful picnic at which some 300 people were present. This Union is going strong and making it's self heard.

The Edwell troop of the 15th light horse under command of Sergeant Walton have gone, to Calgary for training, we expect to see them back all stiff and starch with drill.

We notice some good road work being done this year. This is as it should be, there is now a good road leading right into Edwell.

Any one wanting a real good quarter section here had better write F Powell who has some listed. Terms good and easy for genuine buyer.

The cream haulers are busy this summer. Two trips a week each, seems as though things are going some.

The next morning the town bustled with a new excitement. A trim, beautiful yacht, flying strange colors, steamed into the little harbor of Ararat. Every one knew that the yacht brought the princess who was to visit her ladyship.

The enemy came down from his bungalow, attracted by the unusual and inspiring spectacle of a ship at anchor. A line of anxiety marked his brow. Two figures had watched his windows all night long, sinister shadows that always met his eye when it penetrated the gloom of the moonlit forest.

Lord and Lady Deppingham were on the pier before him. Excitement and joy illumined her face. Her eyes were sparkling with anticipation. He could almost see that she trembled in her eagerness. He came quite close to them before they saw him. Exhilaration no doubt was responsible for the very agreeable smile of recognition that she bestowed upon him. The enemy could do no less than go to them with his pleasantest acknowledgment. His rugged face relaxed into a most charming, winsome smile, half diffident, half assured.

He passed among the wives of his clients without so much as a sign of recognition, coolly indifferent to the admiring glances that sought his face. The dark, languorous eyes that flashed eager admiration a moment before now turned sullen with disappointment. He had ignored their owners.

"I have heard that you expect a visitor," said the enemy in his most agreeable manner.

"Won't you go aboard with us?" asked Deppingham, at a loss for anything better to say. The enemy shook his head and smiled.

"You are very good, but I believe my place is here."

"The princess is to be with me for a month. We expect more sunshine than ever at the chateau," ventured her ladyship.

"I sincerely hope you may be disappointed," said he commiseratingly, fanning himself with his hat. She laughed and understood, but Deppingham was halfway out to the yacht before it became clear to him that the enemy hoped literally, not figuratively.

The enemy sauntered back to the American bar, lonelier than ever before in his life. He now knew what it was that he had missed more than all else—woman.

Britt and Saunders were waiting for him under the awning outside.

"Hello!" called Britt. "We saw you down there, but couldn't get near. By ginger, old man, I had no idea your Persians were so beautiful. They are oriental gems of!"

"My Persians? What the devil do you mean, Britt? Come in and sit down; I want to talk to you fellows. See here, this talk about these women has got to be stopped. It's dangerous for you, and it's dangerous for me. It is so full of peril that I don't care to look at them, handsome as you say they are. Do you know what I was thinking of as I came over here after leaving one of the most charming of women—your Lady Deppingham? I was thinking what a wretched famine there is in women. I'm speaking of women like Lady Deppingham and Mrs. Browne, neither of whom I know, and yet I've known them all my life—the kind of women we love, not the kind we despise or pity. Don't you see? I'm hungry for the very sight of a woman."

"You see Miss Pelham often enough," said Saunders surlily. The enemy was making a pitcher of lemonade.

"My dear Saunders, you are quite right. I do see Miss Pelham often enough. In my present frame of mind I'd fail desperately in love with her if I saw her oftener." Saunders blinked and glared at him through his pale eyes.

"My word!" he said. Then he got up abruptly and stalked out of the room. Britt laughed immoderately.

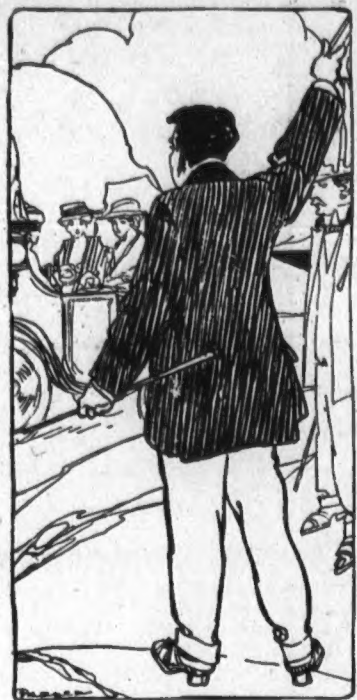

"He's a lucky dog," reflected the enemy. "You see, he loves her, Britt—he loves little Miss Pelham. Do you know what that means? It means everything is worth while. Hello! Here he is back! Come in, Saunders. Here's your lemon!"

Saunders was excited. He stopped in the doorway, but looked over his shoulder into the street.

"Come along!" he exclaimed. "They are going up to the chateau—the princess and her party. My word, she's ripping!"

At the corner they stopped to await the procession of palanquins and jinkishas which had started from the pier. The smart English victoria from the chateau, drawn by Wyckholme's thoroughbreds, was coming on in advance of the foot brigade. In the rear seat of the victoria sat Lady Deppingham.

His helmet came off with a rush; a dazed smile of recognition lighted his face.

ham and one who evidently was the princess. Opposite to them sat two older but no less smart looking women.

"A gala day in Ararat," observed the stubby Mr. Britt. "We are to have the whole party overnight up at the chateau. Hello! By thunder, old man, she's—she's speaking to you!" He turned in astonishment to look at his companion's face.

The enemy was staring, transfixed, at the young woman in white who sat beside Lady Deppingham. He seemed paralyzed for the moment. Then his helmet came off with a rush; a dazed smile of recognition lighted his face. The very pretty young woman in the wide hat was leaning forward and smiling at him, a startled, uncertain look in her eyes. Lady Deppingham was glancing open mouthed from one to the other.

"I must be dreaming," murmured the enemy.

Britt took him by the arm. "Do you know her?" he asked. The enemy turned upon him with a radiant gleam in his once somber, disconsolate eyes.

"Do you think I'd be grinning at her like a fool if I didn't? Why the dickens didn't you tell me that it was the Princess Geneva of Rapp-Thorberg who was coming?"

CHAPTER XI.

CHASE PERFORMS A MIRACLE.

HOLLINGSWORTH CHASE now felt that he was on neutral ground with the Princess Geneva. His strange connection with the Skaggs will case is easily explained. After leaving Thorberg he went directly to Paris; thence, after ten days, to London, where he hoped to get on as a staff correspondent for one of the big dailies. One day at the Savage club he listened to a recital of the amazing conditions which attended the execution of Skaggs' will. He had shot wild game in South Africa with Sir John Brodney, chief counselor for the islanders, and when Sir John suddenly proposed that he go out to Japan as the firm's representative he leaped at the chance.

In truth Rasula was more than glad to have the services of an American. He had heard Wyckholme talk of the manner in which civil causes were tried in the United States, and he felt that one Yankee on the scene was worth ten Englishmen at home.

The good looking Mr. Chase, writing under the dread of exposure as an international jackass, welcomed the opportunity to get as far away from civilization as possible. He knew that the Prince Karl story would not lie dormant, but he could not banish the fair face of the Princess Geneva from his thoughts during the long voyage nor would it be stretching the point to say that his day dreams were of her as he sat and smoked in his bungalow porch.

Before Chase left London Sir John Brodney bluntly cautioned him against the dangers that lurked in Lady Deppingham's eyes.

"She won't leave you a peg to stand on, Chase. If you seek an encounter," he said. "She's pretty and she's clever, and she's made fools of better men than you, my boy. I don't say she's a bad lot, because she's too smart for that. Remember, my boy, you are going out there to offset, not to beset, Lady Deppingham."

Chase was not in love with the proud Princess Geneva. He denied that to himself a hundred times a day as he sat in his bungalow and smoked the situation over.

He had proved to himself quite beyond a doubt that he was not in love, when, like a bolt from a clear sky, she stepped out of the oblivion into which he had cast her to smile upon him without warning. It was most unfair. Her smile had been one of the most difficult obstacles to overcome in the effort to return a fair and final verdict.

Could anything be more miraculous than that she should come to the unheard of island of Japat, unless, possibly, that he should be there when she came? She was there for him to look upon and love and lose, just as he had dreamed all these months. It mattered little that she was now the wife of Prince Karl of Brabets. To him she was still the Princess Geneva of Rapp-Thorberg.

In his leather pocketbook lay the ever present reminder that she could be no more than a dream to him. It was the clipping from a Paris newspaper announcing that the Princess Geneva was to wed Prince Karl during the Christmas holidays.

VALUE OF ENSILAGE.

When Compared With Other Roughage It Is Far Superior.

After a number of experiments at the Nebraska Agricultural college the feeding value of corn ensilage was found to be far superior to any other roughage. This should convince the farmer that a silo on the farm will tend to improve it wonderfully. The experiment shows that—

One ton of ensilage equals one ton sugar beets.

Three tons of ensilage equal one ton clover hay.

Three and one-half tons of ensilage equal one ton alfalfa hay.

Two and one-fourth tons of ensilage equal one ton marsh hay.

Three and one-half tons of ensilage equal one ton prairie hay.

One-half ton of ensilage equals one ton pumpkins.

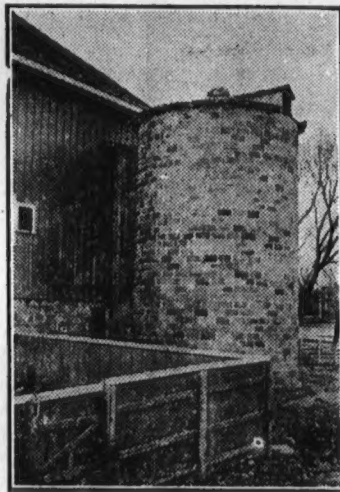

Below he gives his estimate of the cost of putting up ensilage and hay and the number of cubic feet occupied by each:

One ton of ensilage cost to put up 63 cents. One ton of hay cost to put up $1.50. One ton of ensilage occupies 50 cubic feet. One ton of hay occupies 500 cubic feet.

To this statement he adds the following:

It will be seen that ten times more space is required for hay than ensilage, and it is hardly possible to construct even a cheap hay shed, to say nothing of a barn, for the price required to store for same quantity of ensilage. With the ordinary hayloft in a good dairy barn the cost of storage space would be three times that of the silo. The table also gives a comparison between the cost of harvesting corn ensilage as compared with hay. It will be seen that corn ensilage can be put up for almost one-third the cost of hay. These figures do not allow for interest on money invested in machinery or storage. While hay is about three times richer in food elements, it is still an expensive roughage as compared with ensilage.

Until the feeder can find a food equal to corn ensilage for even twice the cost he had better seriously consider the silo. Under present conditions at least one-fourth of all the farmers keeping stock in the corn belt will find the silo an economic equipment. An acre of corn put in the silo is valued at about $55, while the same corn standing in the field and husked in the usual manner is valued at $27. This is accounting for all cost of harvesting. Then an acre in the silo is worth two in the field, or, putting it another way, the silo doubles the value of the corn crop.

Dressing the Hair.

In preparing human hair for sale it is first assorted, combed and washed in boiling water to which a weak solution of soda or ammonia is added, then assorted as to colors. The short hairs are wound around little glass bars placed in a coke heated kiln five or six days, when they are ready for sale as "curis."

AN ABLE RAILROADER.

E. H. Fitzhugh Has Had a Brilliant Career.

The report is widely credited that Mr. E. H. Fitzhugh, of Montreal, who is at present first vice-president of the Grand Trunk Railway, will shortly become general manager of that system. The latter title was formerly held by Mr. C. M. Hays, who relinquished the title when he became president a short while back. The post has not been filled. Mr. Fitzhugh has, however, been performing the duties involved.

Mr. Fitzhugh, though a good Canadian, is like many men who have created and developed the railway business in Canada, a native of the United States. He was born February 1st, 1853, in Danville, Montgomery County, Missouri. He entered railway service in 1873, as clerk in the office of the Master Car Builder, of Kansas City and Northern Railway, at St. Louis, Mo. He served in the car accountant's office of the same railway, and chief clerk to superintendent, western division, Wabash Railroad until 1889. From 1889 to December 31st, 1896, was master of transportation for lines west of the Mississippi River on the Wabash Railroad, with office at Moberly, Mo. On January 1st, 1896, he became secretary to the general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway System, at Montreal. On July 15th of the same year he was appointed superintendent of the middle division of the Grand Trunk Railway System, with offices at Toronto. From May 1899 to March 1901, he was vice-president and general manager, Central Vermont Railway System and allied railroads, and lived at St. Albans, Vt. In 1901, when Mr. C. M. Hays became president of the Southern Pacific Railway, he went to San Francisco, Cal., as his assistant. In 1902 he returned to Canada with Mr. Hays and became vice-president and general manager of the Central Vermont Railway System. From January 1st, 1905 to January 6th, 1910, he was third vice-president of the Grand Trunk Railway System, and vice-president of the Central Vermont Railway System, with offices at Montreal. On January 7th, 1910 he was appointed first vice-president of the Grand Trunk Railway System, retaining the vice-presidency of the Central Vermont Railway System, and the vice-presidency of the Detroit and Toledo Shore Line Railroad.

St. John's Exhibition.

Ever since a persistent delegation of St. John citizens, by their energetic lobbying at Ottawa, secured the $50,000 grant, which goes with a Dominion exhibition, the people of that bustling city have been boosting their fair for all they are worth. The dates of exhibition are Sept. 5th to 15th, just at a season when New Brunswick, the Mecca of tourists and big game hunters, is in her most glorious attire and weather mood.

The St. John Exhibition Association engaged the services of Mr. H. J. P. Good, whose wide experience of seventeen years with the Toronto Exhibition executive fit him amply for the conduct of a Dominion exhibition.

In addition to the grant of the Dominion Government financial support is forthcoming from the New Brunswick Government and the city of St. John. As these funds are being largely devoted to marked increases in prize moneys, it is assured that competition in all departments will be exceedingly keen. Furthermore, the national character of the exhibition, the official tone lent it by Dominion and Provincial sanction, is inducing scores of manufacturing houses in widely separated sections of Canada to exhibit their wares, as it were, in a truly Canadian and representative ensemble.

In the agricultural and live stock sections enormous displays will be made by eastern producers and by many in the middle west, and the Maritime Provinces of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island have settled down to united effort in safeguarding the prestige of the East against the wonderful development of the West.

A Dead Man's Finger Prints.

What is believed to be the first occasion on which the identity of a dead man has been established by means of the finger-print system now in use by the police occurred the other day at Slough, England. The body of a man was found on the Great Western Railway, near Taplow, in a badly mutilated condition, portions of the remains being found some distance from the body. There was nothing on the body to lead to identification, and the coroner's jury returned a verdict of "Found dead on the line."

Meanwhile Supt. Pearman of Slough took the dead man's finger prints, a gruesome task, as one of the arms was completely severed from the trunk. The prints were sent to Scotland Yard, and there they were immediately identified as those of a man named Downes of Deal.

His Nerve.

"So when Bella rejected Jack he went immediately and proposed to Maud?"

"Yes. But that wasn't the best of it. What do you think? He gave Maud an order on Bella for the engagement ring."

Misunderstood.

"I would like a straw with this lemonade," said the lady at the table to the waiter who was serving the beverage.

"Hey!" ejaculated the waiter, who was hard of hearing. "No; straw, I said."

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON I.—THIRD QUARTER, FOR JULY 3, 1910.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xii, 31-33, 44-52—Memory Verse, 44—Golden Text, Rom. xiv, 17—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Having considered two of these seven parables, we are asked in this lesson to take up the remaining five. We conclude from verse 53 that all the seven formed one discourse, spoken at one time, four publicly and three, with the explanation of the second, more privately to the disciples only (verse 33). We must remember that He is in the whole discourse describing different phases of this present age from His rejection until His coming again, the mysteries of the kingdom. What-ever symbol or figure He explains stands good for the whole discourse—as, for example, "the field is the world," the birds represent the wicked one, the enemy is the devil, the harvest is the end of the age. In the first parable only perhaps a fourth part of the seed bears fruit, at least only a part without saying how much. In the second the children of God and of the wicked one continue side by side throughout the whole age. In the third there is the unnatural growth from the least of all seeds, not only of an herb, but of a tree, in the branches of which the birds of the air lodge.

In the fourth, the parable of the leaven, a woman is seen leavening, or corrupting, her food, for from Ex. xii, where the houses had to be searched and all leaven put away, all through the Bible leaven is without exception a symbol of evil. Our Lord taught to beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees (xvi, 6), and Paul taught to put away the leaven of malice and wickedness and use the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth I Cor. v. 8). The rule in all the sacrifices was "burn no leaven nor any honey" (Lev. ii, 11), but there was one exception made in reference to a thanksgiving offering, and leaven was commanded to represent the evil that was in their thanksgiving (Lev. vii 12, 13, and Amos iv, 5). This woman evidently represents the professing church thoroughly corrupting her teaching, and it is even now, as was foretold in II Tim. iii, 6; iv, 3, a form of godliness denying the power and a refusal to endure sound doctrine. Unitarianism and infidelity are in many a pulpit where only the pure gospel ought to be preached. Sarah did did better when she took three measures of meal and baked unleavened cakes for her visitors (Gen. xviii, 6). With the devil catching away the seed or hindering the fruit, sowing tares, entering the church, causing false doctrine to be taught, it does not look encouraging, but we are glad that He has told us what to expect (Isa. xlii, 4).

Let us hear the other parables spoken in the house to the disciples. First there is a field with treasure hidden in it which a man buys, having sold all that he had in order to buy it (verse 44). This cannot represent the sinner obtaining salvation, for salvation cannot be bought. It is wholly and only of free grace. Neither money nor good works can obtain it. And where is there even a hint that salvation is to be hidden? Is it not rather to be proclaimed to all people? Let us hold fast the teaching of the previous parables and all will be clear and easy. The field is the world, and there is only one who can buy it, and it is written of Him that, though He was rich, for our sakes he became poor. Why should he need to buy it or redeem it? Because, although He created it, He gave it to Adam, and Adam mortgaged it to the devil, who was bold enough to say to our Lord that he owned it (Matt. iv, 8, 9). Rom. viii, 21; Rev. xxi, 3, and other texts teach that the treasure is Israel, through whom He will yet bless all nations. Up to the present, through all this age, she is a hidden treasure, and few preachers make any reference to her or look for any future for her, but such should give heed to Jer. xxxiii, 24-26; iii, 17; Isa. lxi.

In the parable of the pearl it must be the same man who gave up all that he had in order to obtain it. As pearls come from the sea, this pearl must represent the church gathered from the sea of nations and in due time to be a glorious church, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing, holy and without blemish (Eph. v, 27)—a perfect pearl, but perfect only because united to Him who purchased her. He said of Israel, "Thy beauty was perfected through my compassions which I had put upon thee" (Ezek. xvi, 14).

When the time of the mystery has passed the pearl—the church—shall be manifestly one with Him, and Israel shall be manifestly His treasure in the eyes of all nations. While the parable of the net may have some reference to the gathering at the end of the age, we must remember that He said to some of His first followers, "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men" (Matt. iv, 9). Through all the age the net has been gathering good and bad, not taking all the fish in the sea and not gathering only the good ones, but gathering every kind, a great separation to take place at the end of the age. Some consider verses 5 and 52 an additional parable.

A Leeds doctor has declared that an unconscious person will not drown so quickly as a person in possession of his faculties. So that, gentle reader, if ever you are in danger of drowning, your plan is to become unconscious with the least possible delay.

DO NOT WANT PEACE

GERMANY MAY NOT ACCEPT THE PEACE AGREEMENT

The Kaiser's Reported Peace Talk Raises Storm of Protest—His Views not Representative—Upheaval Created in Germany Causes Alarm in France, and Outlook is Regarded as Full of Peril.

Paris.—The storm of protest raised in Germany by the Kaiser's reported peace talk with French Foreign Minister Pichon during their stay in London at the time of King Edward's funeral, is generally accepted by Gallic politicians as confirmation of their worst fears of Teutonic aggression in the not far distant future.

M. Pichon has been a good deal criticized for allowing the substance of what the Kaiser said to him in private conversation to leak out, but the truth is that he did it deliberately, as a means of ascertaining whether Wilhelm's views were really representative of his countrymen's. If the Fatherland's answer proved affirmative no harm would have been done by the French foreign minister's intentional indiscretion. If negative, it made no particular difference to M. Pichon how much of an uproar he created in Germany.

Negative was what the response was. And at the Quai d'Orsay it is interpreted as meaning that Germany proposes to tie itself to no peace agreements as long as there is anything loose in the world which it thinks it might want, but could not get without a fight.

Assuming this conclusion to be the correct one, France is certainly the country likeliest to have trouble. It possesses more territory and more interests coveted by Germany than any other country in Europe with the possible exception of England. England is so tough a proposition to tackle that even Germany will probably think twice before entering upon an Anglo-German war. But France would be perfectly easy for the Germans to swallow whole and the Frenchmen at the head of their country's affairs know it quite well, though of course, they do not admit it publicly.

Whether the Kaiser meant what he said to M. Pichon is not altogether clear. Some good judges of international affairs think he was merely chatting affably without any very deep thought as to what he said. Others take the view that he was bubbling with enthusiasm with previous world's peace conversations with Col. Roosevelt and spoke sincerely to M. Pichon but that it was too much to expect that his enthusiasm would last. Finally, there are supporters of the view that he had really carefully thought out a comprehensive peace policy to which he intended and perhaps still intends, to stick.

The point is not very material, however, for it is evident that Germany is set on a big expansion programme which it proposes to carry through, whether the Kaiser likes it or not.

The final outcome all depends on England. Under King Edward, the French considered that they were in a position to depend absolutely upon British aid in the event of a clash with the Germans. Of George they are doubtful. Things may work out all right, it is agreed. Still, the outlook is regarded as full of peril.

Will Get Bonds Guaranteed

Pincher Creek.—The railway projectors have returned to town from an inspection of the survey, with which they express satisfaction and left again to look over the route in another direction. As soon as the bonds are guaranteed by the government construction will begin. Hon. A. J. McLean sent a telephone message, stating that he would do everything in his power to have the bonds guaranteed. These interested in financing the scheme are waiting until such time as Premier Sifton's election is over before proceeding further in the matter of seeking co-operation from the government by guaranteeing the bonds.

The consensus of opinion here, as far as one can learn, is that Premier Sifton and the new government would make a good break by acceding this grant, for there are many of both political parties who consider the southern part of the province to have been unfairly dealt with in considerations of this nature at Edmonton. A more hopeful feeling is permeating among the people that this railroad will yet be a true bill, not a few of whom consider it a sure thing already.

Four Canadians Honored

London.—Four Canadians are included in the king's birthday honors as announced recently. Knights Bachelor, Senator G. W. Ross, former premier of Ontario; Byron E. Walker, president of the Bank of Commerce; H. N. Bates, of the Ottawa Improvement Commission; C. M. G. J. G. Rutherford, Dominion Livestock Commissioner, Imperial Service Order, Achille Frechette, W. H. McIlree and W. J. Ptolemy.

Woman Balloonist is a Marvel

London.—Mrs. Asheton Harbord recently won the title of champion balloonist of England by travelling 115 miles in a race that started at Hurlingham. She covered thirty miles more than any of the opponents in the race, descending at Beiles. At times she rose to a height of 7,000 feet and when the balloon descended she was on the verge of collapse from cold, having to be assisted from the car.

MAY MODIFY ITS ATTITUDE

Unless the Vatican Changes the Negotiations Will be Broken Off

Madrid.—At the conclusion of a recent cabinet meeting Premier Canalejas announced that the government's religious programme would be carried out. He said that the protest of the Vatican against the Royal decree of June 11 would be ignored and that the decisions of the government already announced would stand.

A semi-official announcement made recently indicates that the government, desiring an amicable settlement of the controversy will give the Vatican an opportunity to modify its attitude in the matter of its protest.

It is set forth that Premier Canalejas held King Alfonso to his promise, made when the premier took power, that he would approve the government course, and explains that the government proposes to pursue unflinchingly the programme which it considers that civilization demands, and is counting on the support of all Liberals.

The cabinet, presided over by King Alfonso, discussed the government's attitude in the face of the double protest of the Vatican and Spanish Episcopate against the Royal decree of June 11.

The decree amended the legislation and authorized the edifices of non-Catholic religious societies to display the insignia for public worship. The Papal protests were coupled with the negotiations between the government and Rome for the revision of the concordat and recently Premier Canalejas intimated that unless the Vatican changed its attitude the negotiations would be broken off.

The Vatican replied and after setting forth that it maintained that the decree is a violation of the concordat and that of amendments of various ministries, declined categorically to continue the negotiations over the revision until this point is settled.

Senator Offered $50,000 as a Bribe

Washington, D.C.—Senator Gore of Oklahoma disclosed in the senate, what he interpreted as an effort to bribe him in connection with legislation affecting the fortune in attorney fees, claimed by J. F. McMurray, of Oklahoma for services rendered to the Choctaw and Chickasaw Nations in land and townscape cases.

The charge created a sensation in the senate, which later extended to the house. The latter body in consequence sent back to conference the general deficiency bill, which carried an item relating to contracts between the Indians and their attorneys. As the result of the charges, Senator Gore finally involved a number of the senate committee of Indian affairs, and two former senators, one from Nebraska and the other from Kansas, whose names were not made public. In response to a suggestion by Senator Bailey that he name the senate members of the Indian affairs committee Mr. Gore demurred, but declared that he would welcome an investigation of the charges, so that the whole matter might be brought out before a body which would be authorized to deal with his allegations.

Gloomy View of Britain's Future

London.—An increase of $55,000,000 was made in the national debt during the past year, according to the statement issued by the treasurer. The total deadweight debt gives $3,566,000,000 April 1, and the total liabilities were $3,812,000,000. These figures excited bitterness among those opposed to what is called the Socialistic programme of Lloyd George's budget. These assert the budget caused an immense loss in the revenue.

A somewhat different, though equally gloomy view, is taken in other quarters. Believers in the phantom of the German invasion see only another evidence of the decline of Great Britain. The country, they assert, is already filled with young men who settle down to a life of sport and thus live upon the resources of the country without adding anything. These, they assert, had for the most part no military training and in time of war would be only civilians.

To the immense drain upon the country's resources of these non-producers there is added further a tax of $55,000,000 in a single year. Those who hold this view say the nation is only rendered more tempting to a progressive and commercially active potential foe.

Urged Reduction in Cable Rates

London.—In the course of a discussion on post office estimates recently Henniher Heaton urged the necessity of reduction in cable rates. Captain Norton, assistant postmaster general, who replied, said the whole system of telegraphy was in a changing condition and if a state-owned system of cables was to be undertaken the department would be embarking in competition with private interests and there would be considerable difficulty with the self governing colonies. A committee had been considering the question and its recommendations were under consideration by the department.

Earl Grey Speaks at Rhodes Dinner

London.—Speaking at the Rhodes dinner Earl Grey referred to the work of Cecil Rhodes. It was Rhodes who said if only the federation of Australia, South Africa and Canada could be secured the way would be paved for the federation of the empire. Had Rhodes lived he would have been another Alexander Hamilton in an empire of influence. Rhodes, Earl Grey said, had been the inspiring influence on his life.

STUDY TO H. B. ROUTE

FEASIBILITY OF ROUTE TO BE INVESTIGATED

Dominion Government Schooner Leaves for Hudson Bay to Locate if Possible, the Best Channel—Engineering Staff will Remain at the Bay Until Autumn, and will Return Overland to Winnipeg.

Halifax, N. S.—The Dominion government schooner Crislie G. Thomey leaves for the Hudson Bay to report on the feasibility of the Hudson Bay route for wheat shipments from the west in connection with the proposed Hudson Bay railway from Winnipeg.

The Thomey will survey the approaches to the Nelson river in order to ascertain the depth of water and to locate if possible the best channel. This will necessitate the schooner working as far out as Fort Miles from the land over thirty miles up the river to the proposed terminus.

The schooner will return to Halifax late in the autumn, but the engineering staff will locate for a time on the shores of the Bay in order to watch the ice, its forming, and its movement, and they will not leave for civilization until the winter has fully set in.

Then they will start on a tramp of 500 miles across an almost unknown and uninhabited country which they expect to "do" in twenty days. They go equipped to wrestle with the biting cold of the north. They will come out at Winnipeg. The government steamer Stanley will operate for a similar purpose about Fort Churchill.

The engineers in charge of both parties will report to the government, and on their reports will depend largely the future action of the government concerning this route and the selection of the deep water terminus.

Denial by Laurier

Ottawa.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has given to the press a signed statement in respect to a despatch from Winnipeg to the Montreal Gazette, in which it was asserted that the Hon. Robert Rogers had stated that a friend of Sir Wilfrid Laurier had tried to sell a judgeship for ten thousand dollars.

"The charge of a rake-off on contracts we are familiar with and can be set aside without comment, but an attack upon the honor of the judiciary is too serious to be allowed to go unchallenged. I do not believe there is the slightest foundation for the assertion of Mr. Rogers, and as far as the government may be concerned, I give it the most unqualified denial. On behalf of the government I add that if it were true that a judge had paid a single dollar to any one in connection with his appointment, that judge would not be fit to be on the bench, and the charge if true would warrant impeachment." (Signed) Wilfrid Laurier.

Planting the Flag in Arctic Regions

Ottawa.—The Canadian government is evidently preparing to make good to sovereignty in Arctic territories over which the British flag has been hoisted by the several explorers which have been in northern waters in the past six years.

The appointment is announced of Hon. J. C. Patterson: "To be commissioner to investigate into titles of ownership by the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland of all lands in the Arctic seas, whether acquired by discovery, occupation or otherwise."

Mr. Patterson will report the result of his investigations from time to time to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The instructions to Capt. Bernier, who will sail north in a few days for another cruise in the Arctic, are to plant the flag upon a number of additional islands in the Arctic regions.

U.S. Congress Takes Thought of Peace

Washington, D. C.—Confining the expenditure to $10,000, the senate has adopted the joint resolution originating in the house authorizing the appointment of a commission for the promotion of universal peace. The commission is to consist of five members, and is to be appointed by the president. The purpose is to consider "The expediency of utilizing existing international agencies for the purpose of limiting the armaments of the nations of the world by international agreement, and of constituting the combined navies of the world in an international force for the preservation of universal peace, and to consider reports on any other means to diminish the expenditures of the government for military purposes and to lessen the probabilities of war." The bill now goes to the president.

Alpine Club Member Shoots Bear

Calgary, Alta.—Considerable excitement was created at the Alpine Club house at Banff recently, when a fine cinnamon bear was shot from the library window. The bear had been making frequent visits to the refuse pit, and had scared some of the children. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McLaren, of Winnipeg, were in the party that lay in wait for bruin.

Britain Praises Canada's Conduct

London.—The Standard says: "We in this country can feel nothing but admiration for the zeal and promptitude with which Canada has entered upon the great enterprise of the establishing of a navy." The Standard adds that it is glad to see that some of the vessels are to be laid down in Canadian yards.

PRAISES ALBERTA SOLDIERS

General French, Noted Cavalry Officer, Impressed With Work of Our Militia

Calgary.—"You have the best material I ever saw," said General French, after witnessing tactical exercises of the military forces. "You have the horses, you have the men, and you have the country on which you can train. Your men are of fine physique, and they can ride anything and anywhere."

In such a strain, in a short concise talk, full of strong points, did General French speak to the officers of Alberta. He classed the men as having lots of "go" in them, of being well set up, smart, and good riders.

And it may well be said that he saw the boys at their best.

This parade was no parade of men in their dress uniforms, with brass-work and buttons brightly shining and a band playing. It was a parade that General French must often have seen in South Africa. A parade of sweat-grimed men and horses, the men in their shirt sleeves, with a saddlery creaking with the strain of hard riding, the rifles dirty with powder, men and officers covered with dust, yet all happy, browned with the sun, and still smiling when, at the end of four hours of the hardest kind of work, they rode back into their lines.

"If I had men like you have, that can ride like those men ride, I would not be afraid to go anywhere," he said to the officers as he stood watching the men riding off bare-backed to take their horses to water.

He also cast an appreciative eye over the Lethbridge battery of field artillery as they swung back into their lines, horses straining at the traces and the gunners sitting erect on their springless seat, while the drivers held the straining horses in check. A tough-looking bunch were these gunners, dressed in wide-brimmed straw hats, turned up at one side for headgear, and blue overalls for uniform. And their officers looked the same as the men, but when they told General French that this battery had only been organized a few short months, and that this was the first time they had ever been into camp for training, he took a second look at them, and it could easily be seen that he was surprised.

Declare Charlton Hopelessly Insane

New York.—Porter Charlton, the self-confessed slayer of his wife, Mrs. Mary Castle Charlton, whose body, stuffed in a trunk, he tossed into Lake Como, Italy, may escape punishment for his crime. Powerful influences were put at work to save the prisoner, now locked up in the Hudson county jail at Jersey City, from being extradited to Italy.

Strong efforts are already being exerted with the federal machinery at Washington, where Charlton's father, former Judge Paul Charlton, chief counsel to the Bureau of Insular Affairs wields a potent influence. Judge Charlton consulted with R. Floyd Clarke of this city and former senator Wm. D. Edwards of Jersey City, whom he retained after getting word at Washington of the arrest of his son as he stepped from the steamer Princess Irene at Hoboken.

At this conference it was decided to fight the extradition proceedings urged by the Italian charge d'affaires in a cablegram to his government at Rome.

Charlton's counsel determined on a defence of insanity to keep him from being removed from this country. Three alienists who figured in the Thaw trial, along with Wm. J. Arlitz, of Hoboken, who has appeared in noted murder trials in New Jersey will be retained. The four alienists visited Charlton in his cell in the Jersey City jail and watched him for seven hours. When they emerged Dr. Arlitz told a reporter that Charlton is without doubt insane and that his particular species of insanity is incurable.

Recall of Sir Eldon Gorst is Rumored

London.—An unconfirmed report is in circulation that Sir Edward Grey, the minister of foreign affairs, has decided to recall Sir Eldon Gorst, the British agent in Egypt, and appoint in his place Sir Arthur Hardinge, the British minister to Belgium and a cousin of Sir Charles Hardinge, the new viceroy of India. The Liberals scoff at the report saying that it is impossible that the government would respond so quickly to the criticism of the Egyptian administration in Colonel Roosevelt's Guildhall speech.

It is also reported that General Sir Reginald Wingate, Sirdar of the Egyptian army, is to resign and that his successor will be General Sir John Maxwell, who at present commands the British troops in Egypt. General Maxwell's wife was formerly Miss Louise Selina Bonyne of California.

Many Flyers at Big Montreal Meeting

Montreal.—The arrangements are now practically complete for the aviation meet this week. There are now on the course for Wright machines, a Blériot, owned by Mr. James Caruthers, of Montreal; the Raddeck machine, of the McCordys, of Cape Breton, and three Blériot machines owned by Count de Lesseps, the French aviator, who crossed the English channel, and who will make his first flight on this continent at this meeting. The meeting is to be held a few miles outside Montreal at Lakeside, and as both the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific railways run past the grounds on which a grand stand a quarter of a mile long has been erected, there will be no trouble experienced in handling the large crowds expected.

PROBING GRAFT CASE

SUSPENSION OF SEVERAL GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS

Mr. Murphy Has Not Concluded His Investigations in the Printing Bureau Fraud—Details of the Grave Irregularities—Further Developments are Expected—Frauds Consisted Largely in Double Billing.

Ottawa.—Colonel Sherwood, commissioner of the Dominion police, has left the city for New York to search for Frank Goulthrite, the missing superintendent of stationery at the government printing bureau. Photographs and descriptions have been sent all over the country.

Investigations into the frauds in the printing department have not been concluded, and some further developments of a sensational nature will be made in a few days. It is understood that certain employees in the accounting branch have been suspended for irregularities in the preparation of the cost of work done in the bureau.

Mr. Goulthrite, the chief actor in the affair, is well known in the capital and was very popular among a large circle of acquaintances. Some five years ago he erected a house on Manor Road, Rockcliffe, to which, within the last year he has made many improvements. He has a wife and one child.

The locating of Mr. Goulthrite's whereabouts has been entrusted to Col. Sherwood, head of the Dominion police.

No one feels more keenly than Mr. Murphy the discovery of the frauds in Mr. Goulthrite's department.

"We were boys together," said the minister. In absence of any official information it is assumed that the frauds consisted largely in double billing and that firms worked in collusion with the men inside. Of the safety paper, which is said to be fictitious, there is still a large quantity in stock at the bureau.

Rich Zinc Strike in Mine at Kaslo

Nelson, B.C.—A phenomenal strike of rich ore has been made on the Lucky Jim mine at Kaslo, the richest zinc mine in America.

The present company recently bought out the New York owners and the mine is now owned exclusively by Nelson and Spokane capitalists, large interests having been recently acquired in Spokane.

The present big fissure is thirty-three feet wide and contains the best ore yet found. It is of phenomenal richness, exceeding fifty per cent. green ore, found nowhere else on the continent. The directors have purchased a tramway giving direct access to the railway, and shipments will begin immediately. A large concentrating plant will be erected at Kaslo, the city giving liberal concessions in tax exemption and free water, and a large number of men will be employed.

The strike is absolutely authentic and will mean much to the district and to the owners of the mine, whose property has at least doubled in value.

Alfonso Stands by The Government

Madrid.—Premier Canalejas said that if the Catholics persist in their threats of a civil war he would have recourse to the courts. A dubious element in the situation is the attitude of King Alfonso, upon whom great influence is being exercised to persuade him to overthrow the ministry. At the same time the premier is holding the monarchy to a strict fulfilment of the promises which he says King Alfonso made when the present cabinet took office. Canalejas' rigorous form of policy has aroused the bitter antagonism of the Spanish Episcopate and of Catholic societies throughout the country. At a recent meeting of the Catholic Defence societies it was announced that before the policies outlined were permitted to become law, Spain would undergo a crisis, as Catholics preferred war to the present school system.

Enlarge Sphere of Women's Work

Vienna.—A decree issued by the minister of public works admitting women to technical and trade schools, hitherto rigidly reserved for men opens many new occupations for women in Austria. Chief among them are artistic bookbinding and other leather work, photography, watch making, engineering, ornamental, woodwork, ing, chemistry and electro-technical trades. Women can now enter schools giving training in these and other kinds of work on full terms of equality with men.

Formerly Austrian women desiring such education were obliged to go abroad or enter expensive private institutions. While women are rejoicing over the wider field of employment thus offered them, male workers by no means welcome the change, pointing out that already out of every 1000 wage earners in Austria 450 are women.

Will Not Oppose Suffrage Bill

London.—For the first time in the history of the British nation woman and her aims received official recognition at the cabinet meeting recently. A long discussion was held on the question of granting the plea of the suffragettes that government aid be granted for second reading of Woman's Suffrage Conciliation bill. The fact that the Anti-suffragettes oppose the bill is likely to result in its defeat, though to cabinet practically decided that the government would not oppose its passage.

LAKEVIEW.

The Lake View picnic on Dominion Day was an unqualified success and the highest praise is due to the committee, Messrs W Logan, L MacConnell, D McKay, W J McKay, G H Johnson, and D Cameron, for the excellent arrangement.

The sports were something to write home about. The official program consisted of 24 events and while it lasted the fun went fast and furious. The Scotch Athletic element was in great force and quite a few of the prizes were carried off by Auld Scotch sons and daughters. D S Milne won the 100 yard sprint, Henry Main the old mans race, Miss B Main the ladies race and Miss I Main the skipping contest.

The tug of war aroused quite a little excitement, but the married men were unable to hold their own in spite of all the boasting, this seemed strange after all the practice married men have in holding their own. The selections by the band were thoroughly enjoyed by all who had the pleasure of listening to them. The crowd numbered over two hundred, and all were of the same opinion that the picnic was the best ever held in Lake View. Leslie MacConnell says he will join the "Sons of Rest" and work no more, he made his fortune selling ice cream on Dominion Day at the picnic. Some of the folks who refused to become subscribers actually had the face to become competitors in the sports. (Anything after that).

The Smoking Exhibition by the "Sons of Rest" drew a smile from the most sedate Socialist, it was fine.

While the "School of Scandal" was being enacted by the Strollers the Lake View flying machine rose circled round and then headed N. W. toward the other picnickers but lo, and behold the aeronauts were chagrined to find that the Nicks place looked the "deserted barn yard" The revellers were evidently scared at the Airoplian and hid under the ice cream counter.

As there are usually some suspicious few at every picnic, and in order to show that there was no graft connected with our celebration, a balance sheet of the income and expenditure is now posted in Lake View Store for perusal by all concerned. Wouldn't it be nice if every public function in our neighborhood were managed on such an open and above board system.

The following is a complete list of the subscribers to the Lake-view Picnic Fund:

Two dollars each: Messrs G H Johnson, D McKay, W Logan, W J McKay, T H Lonsdale, W M Graham, D L Milne and Anonymous.

One dollar each: Messrs A A Kild, G Burgess, J N Hay, G Hay, S T Lewis, J R Craig, L MacConnell, A Irvine, J A McNeice, J Quinland, M E Sheridan, D Cameron, W B MacCuleh, A Ross, S D Hutton, E E Merrill, C Mudge, Jr, J R Quinlan, and P Mitchell.

Fifty cents each: Messrs W E Edwards, G W Wood, G B Perry, J H MacConnell, J C Morgan, A A Revell, G Allen, F Hogg, M Olding, P X, H. Cand C M.

Twenty-five cents each: Messrs C Dreshen, M F Mudge, and G Smith.

Total $41.75
The total drawings at the Presbyterian Pay Table on Dominion Day amounted to the handsome sum of $42, and great credit is due the ladies who worked so assiduously on behalf of the same.

Although the notice regarding the working of the Pay Table was short, the whole thing having been arranged in two days, yet the success was phenomenal, and worth of the strenuous efforts of all concerned.

While it would be superfluous to attempt mentioning the names of all the many families that contributed helpers, etc. Yet special mention ought to be made of the Committee who saw it through. The following are the names of a few of the assistants at the Presbyterian Pay Table viz: Mesdames W Logan, G Burgess, D S Milne, C Mudge, W Clews, Y Quinland, Kidd, W M Graham, Stevenson, (Pine Lake) D May, L MacConnell, J M Spurlin, H Main, W Caldwell, A Stewart, J Hay, the Misses A McKay, Lily Hay, M Mudge, Spurlin, Y Quinland, Zierke, E L Bremner, Main, E McKee and Robertson, etc. etc.

Donald Cameron kindly let the City Hall to the ladies for the occasion and G Burgess and C Mudge erected the tables which literally groaned all day under the weight of good things so willingly and generously provided by the donors.

Mrs G Burgess was treasurer and pulled the purse strings very well. The tin box kept on the rattle all day, although at every picnic there are always a few who come just for what they can get. We spotted quite a few in the City Hall on Dominion Day.

Eczema Is Not A Blood Disease

For This Reason Internal Treatment Fails to Cure—Success of DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT

Experience with the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment will soon convince anyone that Eczema is a disease of the skin and not of the blood.

A large percentage of the cures brought about by Dr. Chase's Ointment are after the patient has become tired of tedious internal treatment with no apparent result.

Apply Dr. Chase's Ointment and it is not long until there is relief from the dreadful itching and a beginning of the process of healing up the sores. When you have tested this soothing, healing ointment you will wonder why you ever wasted time with internal treatment for eczema.

Mr. A. D. Macaulay, Stornoway, Que., writes:—"I had itching eczema on my leg for over five years and tried many remedies and several doctors ment cured me completely."

without benefit. Dr. Chase's Ointment cured me. Mrs. Chas. Gilbert, Haystack, Placentia Bay, Nfld., writes:—"I was a sufferer from Salt Rheum for ten years and was cured by eight boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment. I am heartily thankful for this cure and want to recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment to other sufferers."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is wonderfully soothing and healing. By its antiseptic powers it cleans out the sores, stops the agonizing itching and soon sets up the process of healing which means thorough cure, if the treatment is persisted in.

Why not get the cure started to-day? If you are a sufferer from eczema or any form of itching skin disease you will thank the day you heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment. 60 cts. a box, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto, Can. Write for free copy of Dr. Chase's Recipes.

Snakes are unpleasant reptiles and most ladies would get very much excited if they knew there were three or four in the house. Yet snakes are cleanly and most kinds are harmless, but the house flies you allow to live in your kitchen and dining-rooms are probably loaded with germs of infectious and deadly disease. The remedy is found in the constant use of Wilson's Fly Pads during the summer months. No other fly killer compares with them.

A Household Medicine.—They that are acquainted with the sterling properties of Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil in the treatment of many ailments would not be without it in the house. It is truly a household medicine and as it is effective in dealing with many ordinary complaints it is cheaper than a doctor. So, keep it at hand, as the call for it may come most unexpectedly.

NOVA SCOTIA'S AWAKENING.

Maritime Province Is Again Coming Into Her Own.

Is it not possible that a country regarded with a slightly contemptuous pity by reason of its inactivity may be all the while merely strengthening its fibres for future action?

Such at all events has been the experience of Nova Scotia. Previous to confederation no province of Canada exhibited a greater commercial activity. From her great shipbuilding yards staunch vessels slipped into the water by the hundred and sailed away with the fruits of her industry to distant parts and returned as heavily laden. Small shopkeepers grew into prosperous merchants, prosperous merchants developed into merchant princes. Work and money were plentiful, and the flag of prosperity flew high.

The flag of prosperity descended with the hoisting of the Canadian National ensign in Nova Scotia. Confederation, that splendid achievement in the making of Canadian destiny, wrought havoc with the Nova Scotian shipping trade by strangling the arteries of traffic with iron tariff bonds. The shipbuilding industry in Nova Scotia fed largely on foreign trade, and the sudden check placed on that trade killed the principal industry by a slow starvation. Isolated by her geographical position from the rest of Canada, cut off by artificial barriers from the outside world, the province was forced to rest content with a limited internal commerce. Yielding to the force of circumstances she rested from her labors, and so far as the outside world was concerned Nova Scotia slumbered.

It was a natural sleep, however, and not the coma that precedes death. The years of sleep were not wasted years. Slowly, but steadily, the province built up new tissue, strengthened its tendons and gathered fresh energy into its nerves for future endeavors. The public school system was developed and improved; increased facilities were provided for the encouragement of exact scholarship; and as a result Nova Scotia has given to the world perhaps more college professors and principals than any other province in Canada. The period of so-called slumber ripened the country and prepared it thoroughly for the present industrial advancement.

The exploitation of her rich coal measures by great moneyed interests finally aroused the province from her commercial lethargy. H. M. Whitney of Boston and his associates formed the Dominion Coal Company in 1893, took over vast areas of coal in the neighborhood of Glace Bay, Cape Breton, equipped splendid collieries with the most modern appliances for coal digging, and furnished fuel for Montreal furnaces. The energy exhibited by the Dominion Coal Company and the instantaneous success achieved, created a buoyant ozone throughout the commercial atmosphere. Other coal companies dug deeper and faster and shipped more swiftly. Coal measures in Cumberland, in Pictou, in Inverness and in Cape Breton counties were developed. Fully equipped collieries sprang up over the country. Submarine areas were exploited. Practically every known coal seam in the province was delved into by the modern magician who transmutes black diamonds into yellow gold.

The industrial impetus given the province by the coal interests was augmented by the establishment of the Dominion Steel works at Sydney. Eagle eyes had marked the south bank of Sydney harbor as an admirable location for the steel industry, and the result was an expenditure of $25,000,000 which reared the mightiest steel making plant in Canada and transformed a straggling village into a bustling city. Other companies also found the smelting and refining of iron ore a profitable enterprise, and as a result the steel industry in Nova Scotia is on a thoroughly substantial footing and is assuming large proportions. These are only two of Nova Scotia's booming industries which will put her back in the forefront of the wealthy provinces.

Patents.

The Patent Office issued 6,395 patents in the fiscal year 1909. Of this number 903 were granted to Canadian citizens, and 72 per cent. of the whole issue to citizens of the United States. Besides those pictured, other provinces of the Dominion obtained the following patents: Saskatchewan 32, Alberta 28, Nova Scotia 24, New Brunswick 18, Yukon 4, and Prince Edward Island 3. The principal foreign countries to whose citizens patents were granted were: United States 4,602, Great Britain 346, Germany 215, France 59, Australia 58, Sweden 40, New Zealand 36, Austria 33, Transvaal 12. The ratio of population to each patent granted shows that Ontario secured one patent to every 4,769 residents; Quebec, one to every 8,575; British Columbia, one to every 5,095; Manitoba, one to every 5,535; while in New Brunswick the ratio was one to 18,748; Nova Scotia, one to 19,391, and Prince Edward Island, one to every 33,668. The total revenue of the Patent Office for the fiscal year was $176,692.05.

Pills for Nervous Troubles.—The stomach is the centre of the nervous system, and when the stomach suspends healthy action the result is manifest in disturbances of the nerves. If allowed to persist, nervous debility, a dangerous ailment may ensue. The first consideration is to restore the stomach to proper action, and there is no readier remedy for this than Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. Thousands can attest the virtue of these pills in curing nervous disorders.

The elevator conductor of a tall office building, noticing that the colored janitor had ridden up with him several times that morning, remarked: "Sam, this is the fifth time I have taken you up, but you have not come down with me." "Well, you see," Sam replied, "Ah been washin' windows on de 'leveneth floor, and every now and agin' ah misses ma hold and fails out."—Success Magaz.ne.

OUTDOOR SPORT AND ZAM-BUK.

Every athlete, every ball-player every swimmer, every canoeist, every man or woman who loves out door life and exercise, should keep a box of Zam-Buk handy.

Zam-Buk is a purely herbal preparation, which, as soon as applied to cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, blisters, etc., sets up highly beneficial operations. First, its antiseptic properties render the wound free from all danger from blood poisoning. Next, its soothing properties relieve and ease the pain. Then its rich, herbal balms penetrate the tissue, and set up the wonderful process of healing. Barbed wire scratches, insect stings, skin diseases, such as eczema, heat rashes, ringworm, babies' heat sores, chafed places, sore feet—all come within Zam-Buk's power. It also eases and cures piles. All druggists and stores. Avoid imitations.

Weigh 'Em First

Mr. E. J. Weldon, of Winsted, Connecticut, has invented a device by which fishermen can weigh fish in the water before they have landed them, and can thus tell the weight of fish that escape after being hooked. But he's a poor sort of fisherman who hasn't always been able to do that.

BRIGHT LITTLE ONES MAKE HOME BRIGHT

Babies that are well, sleep well, eat well and play well. They sleep naturally and wake up good natured. The child that is not rosy-cheeked and playful needs prompt attention for it is not well. A sickly child can be restored to health with a few doses of Baby's Own Tablets, which cure colic, indigestion, constipation, teething troubles and the other disorders from which young children suffer. Mrs. Thos. Whiting, Waterford, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets in my home for some years and would not be without them. I find them just the right medicine for little ones." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"The fruit crop has failed!" exclaimed the apprehensive person.
"Yes," replied the gloomy boarder; "but what's the use of trying to be hopeful. That never applies to prunes."—Washington Star.

There is no poisonous ingredient in Holloway's Corn Cure, and it can be used without danger or injury.

A venerable Cornwall lady has died at the age of 107. Only recently she cut up for patch-work purposes the winding-sheet she had made for her own body 20 years before, remarking that she would never need it. Which seems to indicate that even at the age of 107 "one never knows."

INVIGORATING TONIC FOR RUN-DOWN PEOPLE

Your blood has become thin and weak. The drain upon your system the past few months has been very great. You are consequently feeling "all out of sorts" and "run down." Your appetite is bad and you hardly have enough energy left to do your daily duties. You should take PSYCHINE, the greatest of Tonics, without delay. This will put you on your feet at once.

Gentlemen:—"I have used PSYCHINE, and I do think it is the greatest tonic and system builder known. I would advise all who are run-down or physically weak to use PSYCHINE." Yours truly, Mrs. Jas. Bertrand, West Toronto.

If you are weak PSYCHINE will make you strong. For Sale by all Druggists & Dealers, 50c. & $1 per bottle.

Want Something for Nothing

In this small world of ours you will find very small people, with pin-head brains to match. It is no hard matter to locate them. A careful observer will point them out to you with no difficulty at all. Or if you listen you can locate them by their "bray" or "whine." These pin-head brained people expect the world to fall down on its knees and offer itself, including the fence, house and lot, piano, pony, and the tail of Halley's comet, just because they think they are entitled to "something for nothing." It is very hard for us to say but we will say this: "We are ready to fulfill our part at any time the parties concerned do as they agreed—but we are not giving something for nothing." If we hear any more "wope" like that which was dished out while we were away it will be our painful duty to tell "our side." And we doubt if it would be appreciated.
